

Matthew Gavzy, Principal

Body Workings Massage Therapy is the brainchild of Matthew Gavzy, who founded the company in 1994. Matthew is a professional body worker and businessman with over fifteen years of experience as a massage therapist, physical therapist assistant and competitive athlete.

Matthew's corporate background, passion for competitive sports and deep care for people result in a massage practice that is client centered, goal oriented and dedicated to the well being of clients. His extensive education and knowledge of the body allows him to provide customized therapeutic programs for specific and varied client needs. Matthew's unique experience with corporate, sports and orthopedic massage has shaped his philosophy of total customer satisfaction. Matthew has personally chosen each of the massage therapists around the country for their commitment to these same values.
